About

Nestled between Rotterdam and The Hague, WestCord Hotel Delft combines modern comfort with stylish design. The interiors, thoughtfully created by IKEA's design team, radiate warmth and creativity throughout the hotel.

An inviting open-plan lobby flows seamlessly into The Blue Dining restaurant, where guests can enjoy Mediterranean-inspired cuisine and a terrace overlooking the peaceful Delft Woods. The hotel features 140 contemporary bedrooms and studios, along with a well-equipped gym and relaxing sauna.

WestCord Hotel Delft is perfectly suited for meetings and events, thanks to its prime location directly on the A13 motorway between The Hague and Rotterdam, with the added convenience of free on-site parking. The hotel offers nine versatile meeting rooms that can be tailored to suit almost any type of gathering. A true highlight is the striking first-floor atrium — a 15-metre-high space spanning 300 m² — providing an impressive setting for conferences, presentations, receptions, or large-scale dinners.
