About

The oldest hotel in Cambridge and its style is undeniably British and quintessentially Cambridge. Classic Edwardian interiors are combined with bespoke, leather-padded writing desks, low Ottomans and tiered chandeliers in playful colours and rooms full of natural light. The result is ambitious, beautiful, and full of life.

The hotel offers 189 luxury rooms and suites across four floors, with views over Parker's Piece, historic Regent Street, and the hotel's inner courtyard.

Few halls in Cambridge can compete with the grandeur, elegance and history of the University Arms Ballroom - a wood-panelled room that belongs to our city's heritage. A solid oak partitioning wall divides the Ballroom into the Crick and Watson rooms, named after James Watson and Francis Crick who made the ground-breaking discovery, the structure of DNA, 'the secret to life' here in Cambridge in 1953.

Plus 2 boardrooms up to 10 and flexibility to use some of the public spaces, the ideal backdrop for your next event
